FLOOR & DECOR

FREE DESIGN SERVICES

At Floor & Decor®, you can kick off your project with our free Design Services, where you can learn all about the flooring and decorative products that can complete your home. But not only is our in-store Design Gallery the place to look at new tile, wood, and stone, it's also the home of some of the most passionate and knowledgeable designers around.

SPOTLIGHT ON DESIGN

Here, we're featuring three Floor & Decor designers—Tiffany, Alma, and Maribel—who are breaking down the latest style trends. You can see how each designer uses tile, wood, and stone to create looks that turn your dreams into reality!

TIFFANY DE LA PAZ

When going modern, less is more. The combination of clean lines, geometric patterns, metallic finishes, and high-gloss large format tile can transition any room into a modern zen feel. Our Valentino White marble or Eramosa White tile can give an upscale edge to the look.

The style can be easily achieved in any living space. In a bathroom, you can use a simple tile like Eramosa White on the floors and add an accent "rug" in front of the tub with the Valentino White square mosaic. For the shower, you can use the large format Alaskan White on the walls and the Valentino Basket Weave mosaic on your shower floor, with a waterfall accent running up one wall with a satin nickel trim. Lastly, for the vanity area, you can stack our 3x6 Pure Snow as a small backsplash.

ALMA AYALA

Marble is clearly not only a current trend, it's a great investment that's as durable as it is timeless. From farmhouse to modern, marble's versatility in color and texture make it a fit for any style and space.

The Vitava Carbon Polished Marble exemplifies a harmonious balance of both warm and cool tones. The piece is rich in texture and dimension without being overwhelming, instantly creating a focal point on any wall. The Crema Bella Marble complements the ledger, brightening the space and giving it a contemporary look. The Oak White Mist Solid Hardwood wraps up the design flawlessly with its warmth against the stone, mimicking the undertones in each marble.

MARIBEL JUAREZ

When it comes to creating a modern farmhouse look for the home, I like to think sleek. Modern farmhouse combines both a warm and cozy feel, with the clean lines of contemporary modern design. I always exemplify a space like a kitchen or laundry room with a patterned tile. You can use a hand scraped hickory wide-plank hardwood paired with an encaustic black and white tile to create a beautiful vintage-feel focal point.

In the kitchen, marble countertops with a marble farm sink can lend a more classic look to farmhouse, while a butcher block island and countertops add the warm characteristics that are often seen in the more rustic side of farmhouse.

WONDERS OF WOOD

Wood and bamboo floors are as versatile as they are durable. As styles evolve, so do wood and bamboo. From trending colors to interesting finishes to revolutionary sizes, there's no doubt there's a style of wood for any home. No matter your style or your budget, there's a wood or bamboo floor for you.

Thanks to the technology behind engineered hardwood you can now get wood floors in bigger sizes than ever before. Longer planks and wide width planks lend to a more seamless look. Because the planks are larger you see more of the natural knotting and graining of the wood.

WATERPROOF WOOD-LOOK TILE

The warm style of wood can be found in the durability of ceramic or porcelain tile. Wood-look tile maintains the look of authentic hardwood with shades like dark walnut or light beige. These designs can feature unique twists like pops of blue or cool gray. Plus, wood-look tile is waterproof* and stain-resistant, so you can put it in the kitchen, bathroom, mudroom, or even the basement.

*While the product is waterproof from exposure to the face of the tile, no tile can prevent moisture from all site or sub-floor conditions. See website for additional information.
